Create Great Tasting Products with Hemp Extracts and CBD

We use nature's creative building blocks to deliver the best solutions for your specific application. With Bestevia[®] e+ Taste Solutions for Cannabis, your CBD-infused beverage or food will deliver a satisfying, delicious taste experience. Using our proprietary next generation stevia platform as a foundation, we incorporate the right combination of proprietary flavors and texturants to create cost-effective solutions that solve the taste and sweetness challenges of formulating with full and broad-spectrum CBD, CBD isolate and hemp extracts.

Experience and Know-how Deliver the Right Combination

Product developers have a wide variety of CBD and hemp ingredients from which they can choose. Full and broad-spectrum CBD and hemp extracts often contribute a range of earthy, bitter and green pungent notes to food and beverage products. Formulators can also choose from a growing list of functional isolates found in the cannabis plant which also impart off tastes but are usually slightly cleaner in taste profile. Understanding the wide variations in flavor profile for these extracts and isolates is key to creating the right flavor and sweetener system for the formulation. We deliver a great tasting product that delivers not only the expected functional benefits but also a great taste experience.

The Sweegen applications team has deep expertise in working with a wide range of full and broad-spectrum CBD and hemp extracts as well as cannabis isolates. We understand the challenges of creating these new food and beverage systems and will partner with you to create your next innovation.
